Come Out and Play This Summer

There is something about a playground that stays with you. The games you played as a kid — Follow the Leader, Hide and Seek, Tug of War, Musical Chairs — were never really just games. They were teaching you something. About belonging. About who gets picked and who gets left out. About whether there is enough room for everyone or whether the world works by subtraction.

This summer we are going back to the playground. Beginning June 28, our worship series Lessons from the Playground will spend six weeks in scripture exploring what it means to belong and discovering that God has been playing a very different game than the one most of us learned.

This is not a children's series with a cute theme. It is a series for every person who has ever wondered whether there was a place for them on the team — or whether they were even the kind of person who gets picked. For everyone who has been pulling alone for longer than they want to admit. For everyone who has felt the wind pick up and started to go under. For everyone who is in a waiting season and has started to wonder whether the green light is ever coming.

The games are real — kids will play them at the start of each service — but the questions they raise are ones every one of us is still living with. What does it mean to be found? To be held? To belong without condition? To trust the one calling the lights?

We will be on God's playground all summer long where nobody gets left out. Not one person. Not ever.

On August 2nd we will wrap up the series the way it deserves to end — together. Join us after worship for a picnic and game day as we celebrate everything we have learned on the playground this summer. More details to come.

We hope to see you there. Bring your game night buddies!
